ADOT Makes Engineering Plans Available Online

Effective January 2017, anyone wishing to view ADOT engineering plans may access them digitally via the Internet. Previously, if you wanted to view such plans, you would have to drive the department's Phoenix main office, search hard copy files and request copies. With the new process in place, public and staff not only have improved access, but it also is easier to search and retrieve the scanned files, and there are cost savings associated with not having to store hard copies or make staff available to manually assist with requests.
